MUCH UNNECESSARY MISERY
HERE DUE TO INDIGESTION

Why not let Diapiesin digest your food for awhile and let your Stomach rest until it gets back its strength?

Your Stomach will not right itself. Indigestion will not go. You can wish all you please. You may wish you were troubled or wish you were well, or wish you could eat like big Bill Smith or Sarah Jones—that won't cure you. Stop wishing. Don't complain. Get your Stomach in order. There is nothing really wrong.

One 22-grain Triangule of Diapiesin, eaten like candy after your next meal, will prove to you, five minutes after, that there is nothing radically wrong with your Stomach. Your Digestive system is unstraining—that's all—needs a vitalizer—more gastric juice. Yes, more digestive juices—then you can eat what you want without the slightest fear of indigestion or dyspepsia or that your food will sour or lay like a lump of lead.

Diapiesin contains the very elements necessary to digestion, and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestine supply exactly what these organs need. They stimulate and replenish the gastric glands and promptly bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

There will be no more belching of Gas or Eructations of Indigested

Color of the Eyes. So far as science is concerned there are only two kinds of eyes, those which are blue and those which are not. Blue is the natural color of the eye; all the other hues, described as hazel or gray, green or violet, are due to flecks of pigment or color superimposed on the blue iris; and science roughly dubs them brown.

TAFT CHEERS BUT
NO INSTRUCTIONSNEW HAMPSHIRE REPUBLICAN
DELEGATES NOT BOUND.

SIX OF THEM ARE CHOSEN

Demonstration Made in Favor of the Secretary of War—Split Delegations in Florida
District.

Concord, N. H., Apr. 22.—Six of the eight members of the New Hampshire delegation to the Republican national convention at Chicago were selected here Tuesday at the state and Second district conventions, and the platform, which was identical in each case, contained a resolution to the effect that "the real interests of the party and of the presidential candidate to be nominated at Chicago will best be served by the omission of instructions, specific or implied, in the form of resolutions of preference."

The platform also favored an early revision of the tariff and endorsed President Roosevelt.

The delegates chosen were: At large—United States Senator Jacob H. Gallinger of Concord, former Gov. Chester B. Jordan of Lancaster, Attorney General Edwin G. Eastman of Exeter, and Edwin F. Jones of Manchester. Second district—Seth M. Richards of Newport, and Lester F. Thurber of Nashua.

Majority Seemingly for Taft. At the state convention an amendment to the effect that it was the "earnest belief that the man embodying every element of a triumphant candidate was William H. Taft," was tabled by a large majority, 25 out of a total of 763 delegates voting in favor of the resolution.

The convention, however, was given a somewhat unexpected opportunity of expressing its sentiment toward live candidates for president. In speaking in opposition to the Taft amendment, Rev. Thomas Chalmers of Manchester asked for a voice vote of preference for La Follette, Cannon, Fairbanks, Hughes and Taft in succession. No one voted for La Follette. Two voices were heard for Cannon, one for Fairbanks, a fair-sized shout for Hughes, and a much louder demonstration for Taft, lasting between five and ten seconds.

Leaders of the Taft movement in the state, including former Gov. Frank W. Rollins and Winston Churchill, while expressing disappointment over the outcome of the state convention, stated, after the proceedings were over, that in their opinion five of the six delegates chosen will vote for Secretary Taft on the first ballot.

Split in Florida District. Pensacola, Fla., Apr. 22.—The Republicans of the Third congressional district held two conventions here Tuesday and each faction elected delegates to the Chicago convention, instructed to vote for Senator Foraker of Ohio and Secretary Taft, respectively. The Foraker delegates obtained possession of the convention hall and refused to admit those delegates who were not in sympathy with them. This faction selected delegates instructed to support Senator Foraker's candidacy. The regular faction secured another hall after some delay and selected delegates to the national convention instructed to vote for Secretary Taft's nomination.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Fiedler entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fiedler, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. R. Becker Sunday afternoon.

Carl Waldow spent Sunday at home.

SECOND BATTLE ON LIQUOR

DRYS WIN 44 ILLINOIS TOWNS
BUT LOSE IN 66.

Their Victory in Pinckneyville and Effingham Offset by Defeat in Other Places.

Chicago, Apr. 22.—Friends and foes of saloons in Illinois Tuesday waged their second battle of the month, the theater of war being in the southern section of the state, but its rumbles reached up into Cook and DuPage counties, where eight of the ten towns that voted upheld the saloon.

Despite the energetic campaign of the anti-saloonists the liquor forces seemed to have more than held their own. They lost Pinckneyville, with its ten saloons, and Effingham, with an even dozen bar rooms, but captured a number of smaller towns and villages.

In Cairo, where the hottest kind of conflict was waged, the anti-saloonists were ignominiously routed, the city voting by 4,005 to 655 to keep its 70 licensed saloons.

In Murphysboro the local option leaders weakened after the April 7 election and withdrew their position under which another vote would have been taken on the saloon question.

The cohorts of "Demon Rum" appeared no effort in Champaign county, where the April election left inviolate the only oasis in the county. The vote confirmed that of two weeks ago, and in several of the smaller towns of the county license aldermen and trustees were elected. This insures the licensing of saloons in the event the supreme court declares unconstitutional the present local option law, a test of which is being made.

Officials of the Anti-Saloon league had declared their hope of adding five counties—Morgan, Scott, Perry, Calhoun and Pulaski—to the list of counties in the state that are totally dry, but in each of them, according to returns, there is still left at least one precinct where the saloon may exist legally.

Anti-license councilmen were elected in Macon, Fairfield, Fairbury, Milwaukee, Maher and Robinson.

Aldermen or trustees pledged to license saloons if permitted by law to do so were elected in Assumption, Pontiac, Rock Falls, Sycamore and Thompson.

LOUISIANA ELECTS SANDERS.

New Orleans, Apr. 22.—Early returns from the state elections indicate that the Democratic ticket, headed by J. Y. Sanders for governor, had been elected throughout.

Second Only to British, Says Sir William Henry White.

Boston, Apr. 22.—In an interview published here, Sir William Henry White, who was for nearly 20 years the responsible designer of all British warships, comments on recent criticisms of the American navy. After declaring that the criticisms are unfounded on fact and supplementing this declaration by a long and technical explanation, Sir William says:

ASK FOR WASHBURN-CROSBY'S
GOLD MEDAL
FLOUR
THE VERY HIGHEST QUALITY

"There is one thing more that I would like to say, and I think it is vital. I have known the American navy from the start. It is not generally known that the modern American navy started with the purchase of two of my designs from Armstrongs. That was in 1883. From those designs the Charleston and the Baltimore were built.

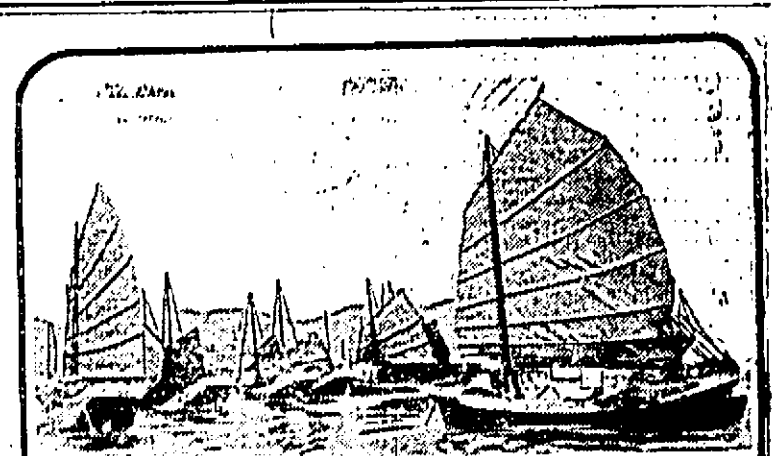

"The first thing I want to say in this connection is that you have naval architects as capable as any, in my judgment, in the world. The second thing I want to say is that your ship-building yards are quite equal to any we have in their equipment and management and all that.

"And the result is that, in my opinion, you have a fleet that, ship for ship, comparing the ships designed at a given date—and that is the only fair comparison—is equal to anything the world contains. And next to the British navy, I think your navy is the best in the world."

LOUISIANA ELECTS SANDERS.

New Orleans, Apr. 22.—Early returns from the state elections indicate that the Democratic ticket, headed by J. Y. Sanders for governor, had been elected throughout.

Flood in China Causes Death of 2,000 People and Loss of 600 Junks.

Shanghai, April 22.—The unexpected freshet along the Yangtsing river and the Han Gung river is reported to have caused untold misery in China around Hankow. Hankow is situated at the junction of these two rivers, as shown in the map above and the water from the surrounding country runs into this junction quickly. Six hundred junks of the type shown in the picture were destroyed and over 2,000 people killed. The freshet came up suddenly in the night and took the people unawares as they were asleep in the boats. This flood is also causing much damage to the interior. Accurate estimates of the total loss are not yet known. This section of China comprises one of its most fertile and populous districts.

KAYSER GLOVES There is no mystery about the "Kaiser" glove. Quality and value, that's all. The genuine have the name in the palm, a guarantee ticket in every pair.

BOND ISSUE FOR THE NEW RAILROAD

Chicago, Milwaukee & Gary Co., Which is to Build via Janesville Executes $20,000,000 Trust Deed.

To secure an issue of $20,000,000 forty year 5 per cent bonds, the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary railway company, recently incorporated to construct a line from Milwaukee to Gary, Ind., via Rockford, Beloit and Janesville, has executed to the St. Louis Trust company a first mortgage trust deed. Of this amount $5,500,000 bonds have been issued in exchange for property of the acquired Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota railway and its subsidiary corporations. The balance of the bonds under the mortgage are to be issued for extensions to Gary and Milwaukee and for equipment and facilities. The news of the interest of the new railroad and the fact that the bond issue is arranged for, showing that the company means business and will take action at once toward the new road will be received with much satisfaction.

NEW COUNTY BOARD WILL MEET EARLY

Call Has Been Issued for the First Meeting on May Twelfth.

Notices have been sent out by the county clerk calling a meeting of the new county board for May 12th. This is about a month earlier than the usual time for the board to meet. The date was set earlier this year in order to allow the school superintendents to get their reports in and also on account of the good roads work. The old board appointed a special committee to look into the matter of buying road rollers and after receiving their report authorized them to buy two rollers. Before they did so the county board went out of existence and so the rollers were not bought. At the meeting which will probably be held in May the new board will proceed to purchase the rollers. Either the old committee will be reappointed with the same powers or a new one will be selected.

Plays Presented by Repertoire Company and Between-the-Act Specialties Make Good Impression.

The audience at the Myers theatre was highly pleased with the performance of the beautiful play, "A Golden Giant Mine," by the Sullivan Stock Co. last evening. ## NEW COUNTY BOARD WILL MEET EARLY

Call Has Been Issued for the First Meeting on May Twelfth.

Notices have been sent out by the county clerk calling a meeting of the new county board for May 12th. This is about a month earlier than the usual time for the board to meet. The date was set earlier this year in order to allow the school superintendents to get their reports in and also on account of the good roads work. The old board appointed a special committee to look into the matter of buying road rollers and after receiving their report authorized them to buy two rollers. Before they did so the county board went out of existence and so the rollers were not bought. At the meeting which will probably be held in May the new board will proceed to purchase the rollers. Either the old committee will be reappointed with the same powers or a new one will be selected.

FIVE PER CENT

A lady called at our office a few days ago and said that she had been informed that we paid more than three per cent on deposits.

We soon learned that her informant had purchased some five per cent bonds of us and that she had misunderstood.

We do not believe that a bank can safely and profitably pay a higher rate than three per cent on deposits.

However, we have for sale bonds issued by the city of Janesville and the city of Evansville and other bonds which will net the investor from four to five per cent. All of these bonds are ideal long time investments and we can unhesitatingly recommend them.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, April 22, 1868.—This morning about 5 o'clock a fire was discovered in the wood yard of the C. & N. W. railway. The alarm was immediately given and the department was on hand with great promptitude and soon got a stream on to the huge pile of wood. But despite their efforts it burned fiercely and threatened to destroy the contents of the yard, some 1,100 cords. Persistent work however finally triumphed after some 25 or 30 cords had been destroyed and the fire was finally subdued.

Mr. Webster desires us to return his individual thanks and the thanks of the company to the firemen and citizens who worked with such vigor and efficiency in saving the property. The fire is supposed to have started from a locomotive.

Washington, April 22.—The Senate opened at eleven o'clock, and the Chief Justice stated the first business to be an order offered by Sumner allowing the Managers for the House and the counsel for the President to argue before the Senate.

DAIRYMEN HAVING ALL HERDS TESTED

Six Head Were Condemned Today by Veterinarian D. B. Clark from Four Herds.

Monroe, Wis., April 22.—Six head of cattle out of four different herds in Green county were condemned as being afflicted with tuberculosis by Assistant State Veterinarian D. B. Clark today. The stock was shipped to Milwaukee for slaughter. Two cows belonged to T. J. Harbison, Juda; two to J. Roderick, Juda; a bull owned by R. L. Newman, Juda; and one cow from the herd of Ed. Dettweiler, north of Monroe. Mr. Dettweiler had forty-two head tested last fall and they were tested again a few days ago. The only animal reacting was a cow purchased at a sale last spring. Green county dairymen are quite generally having their herds tested.

Vickers proposed an amendment to allow such of the Managers as are not authorized to speak, to file written or printed arguments or make oral addresses and the counsel for the President to alternate with them in so doing. Curtis stated that Stansbury's indisposition was such that it would be impossible for him to take any further part in the proceedings. The substitute was agreed to by a vote of 25 against 20. The order as amended was then read by 21 to 20. Stevens inquired if there was any impropriety in the Managers publishing short arguments. It was finally agreed upon, that as many of the managers and counsel for the President as desire to be allowed to file written arguments or address the Senate orally, provided that the final oral argument be made by one person only.

THE CAPTAIN OF the KANSAS

By LOUIS TRACY.

Author of "The Wins of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY EDWARD J. CLODE

"How do they know the ship will not sail at once?" demanded Courtney.

Suarez laughed hysterically with the mirth which is akin to tears when the query was explained to him. He looked bizarre enough under ordinary conditions, but laughter converted him into a fair resemblance of one of those bloodred demons which a Japanese artist loves to depict. Evidently he depended on makeup to supplement his powers as a conjurer.

"It is as much as a canoe can manage in this weather to reach the island out there, which they call Seal Island," he cried, pointing toward the locality of White Horse Island. "Even the Indians were astonished to see so big a ship anchored here safely. They have watched plenty of wrecks outside, and hardly anything comes ashore. At any rate, they are quite sure you cannot go back."

It would be idle to deny that the Spaniard's words sent a chill of apprehension down the spines of some of those present, but the captain said quietly:

"Where a ship is concerned, if she can enter on the flood she can go out on the ebb. How came you to escape tonight?"

Tears stood again in Suarez's eyes as he replied:

"When I heard their plan I imagined they would be driven off, provided a watch were kept. I resolved to risk all in the attempt to reach the company of civilized men once more. I do not care what the outcome may be. If I can help you to overcome them, I am ready to do so; if not, I will die by your side. Tonight I followed in a canoe unseen. When I heard the shooting I leaped overboard, and swam to the ship. It was lucky for me some one seized the canoe which I found there. The men in her had to swim to other canoes, and two were wounded. I heard them say. This caused some confusion, and I had something to grasp when I reached the ship; otherwise I must have been drowned, as the water was very cold."

"Can you speak the Alaculof language?"

"Is that what you call them? Their own name for the tribe is the 'Feathered People,' because all their chief men and heads of families wear those things," and he touched his headdress. "Yes, I know nearly all their words. They don't use a great many. One word may have several meanings, according to the pitch of the voice."

Suddenly his voice failed him. Though the words came fluently, his long disused vocal chords were unequal to the strain of measured speech. He asked himself for some hot water. When Courtney next came across him in the cabin he was asleep and changed so greatly by the removal of pigments from his face that it was difficult to regard him as the same being.

His story was unquestionably true. Toh-mah-eh, who had fought an offshoot tribe of these same Indians, Christobal, who voyaged for the Argentine coast, and Elbio, who seemed to have read such rare books of travel as dealt with that little known part of the world, bore out the reasonableness of his statements. The only individual on board who regarded him with suspicion was Joey, and even Joey was satisfied when Suarez had washed himself.

It was daylight again, a dawn of dense mist, without wind or hail, ere any member of the ship's company thought of sleep. Then Elbio went to her cabin and dreamed of a river of molten gold, down which she was compelled to sail in a cockleshell boat, while fantastic monsters swam around and eyed her suspiciously.

When at last she awoke after a few hours of less exciting slumber she came out on deck to find the sun shining on a fairland of green and blue and diamond white, with giant gray rocks and groves of copper beeches to frame the picture. There was no pillar of smoke on the lower hills to bear silent testimony to the presence of the Indians, but the canoe lying alongside told her that the previous night's events were no part of her dreams, and a man whom she did not recognize—a man with closely cropped gray hair and a deeply lined, weather-tanned face from which a pair of sunken, flashing eyes looked kindly at her—said in Spanish:

"Good morning, senorita. I hope I did not startle you when I came aboard. And I said things I should not have said in the presence of a lady. But, believe me, senorita, I was drunk with delight."

CHAPTER X.

ELBIO had slept long and soundly. She found herself in a new world of sunshine and calm. Her brain had been cleared, restored to the normal by refreshing sleep. With a more active perception of the curious difficulties which beset the Kansas came a feeling akin to despair. The brightness of nature served rather to convert the ship into a prison, storm and stress, whether of the elements or of the less candid foes who lurked unseen on the neighboring shores, made the Kansas a veritable fortress, a steel refuge seemingly impregnable. But the knowledge of the vessel's helplessness and of the equally desperate hazard which beset her inmates was rendered only more poignant by the smiling aspect of land and sea.

But she was hungry, and that was a saying sign. She guessed that many of the men after mounting watch until broad daylight were asleep. Others were at work below, as was testified by a subdued sound of hammering, with the sharp clink of metal against metal. Walker was tinkering at the engines. With him in all likelihood were the captain and Toh-mah-eh. She and Suarez were the drones of the ship, and Suarez, poor fellow, had earned an idle hour if only on account of the scrubbing he had given himself to wash away the tokens of five years of slavery.

Before going in search of the cook she walked a few steps toward the bridge. At the top of the companion who saw Joey, sitting disconsolately on his tail, a sure indication that Courtney was occupied in depths approachable only by steep iron ladders whither the dog could not follow.

She whistled softly to her little friend, knowing that Christobal and perhaps Mr. Boyle would be on the bridge, keeping the lookout, and she was not inclined for talk at the moment. Joey sprang down the stairs, barking joyously, and leaped into her outstretched arms.

He honored no other person on board except his master with such extravagant friendship, and as the girl carried him aft to the cook's galley she asked herself why the dog had taken such a liking to her.

She blushed a little as she thought: "It may be that I resemble the lady whom Captain Courtney is going to marry. I wonder why he did not show us her photograph that day when I was and I visited his cabin and looked at the pictures of his mother and sister. I should like to see her, but how can I manage it? I simply dare not tell him I read that scrap of a letter, even by chance."

The dog apparently found her an excellent substitute. He licked her ear contentedly. That tickled her, and she laughed.

"I fear you are a fickle lover, Joey," she said aloud. "But you will simply be compelled to remain constant to me while we are in this world place, and that may be for the remainder of our lives, dear."

Joey tried to lick her again to show that he didn't care. What could any reasonable dog want more than the weather, enough to eat and the prospect of an occasional scolding?

When Elbio did ultimately climb to the chart house the fit of despondency had died. Boyle was there, having been carried up in a deck chair early in the day. He was alone.

"Hi!" he growled pleasantly. "You're lookin' as bright as a new pin, Miss Maxwell. Now, if I had been among the pirates I'd have taken you with me."

"Do you mean to say that you are actually paying me compliments?" said she.

"Am I? Hi—didn't mean it. I'm an old married man. But pirates, especially Spanish ones, are supposed to be very handy with knives and other fellows' tricks."

"You say they did not consider me a prize?"

"The rascal! Good job you missed that boat. Christobal has been telling me all about it. They've gone under."

"Do you really think so?"

"Can't see any chance for them, Miss Maxwell."

"But we are almost as badly situated here?"

"Hi—no, a bit of it. Lucky chap, Courtney. He couldn't lose a ship if he tried. She'd follow him 'cross country like that pup. Look at me; lost three, all brand new from the hold-ers. So I'm first mate, and first mate I'll remain till my ticket gives out."

"Why do you consider Captain Courtney so fortunate?" asked Elbio, fishing somewhat at the galle which lay behind the question.

"Hi!" shouted Boyle, amazed that even a ship of a girl should need informing on so obvious a fact. "Don't you call it luck to be given command of a ship like the Kansas at his age and to get $5000 an' a gold chronometer because the skipper of the Florida was too full to hold on to the bridge? You mark my words, he'll be made commodore of the fleet after he pulls the Kansas out of this mess."

"What happened to the Florida?"

"Haven't you heard that yarn? Bless my soul, she was our crack ship. She broke her shaft in a gale, and the skipper was washed overboard—you always tell us about deaters, you know—so A. C. just waded in and saved the whole outfit, passengers and all."

"But he has had reverses too. He was in the royal navy, I have been told, and he had to give it up because his people!"

"Glorious luck. The royal navy! Hi—no gold braid and buy your own vital. There's no money in that game."

"Money is not everything in the world. A man's career may be more to him than the mere monetary aspect of it."

"If ever you meet my missus you'll hear the other side of the question, Miss Maxwell. Spoken Courtney was in the navy and had a wife and family to keep, could he do it on his pay? Not he. As it is, he's sure to marry a girl with a pile and wind up a managin' owner."

"Perhaps he is engaged to some such young lady already?"

RICH RED BLOOD

NATURE'S SAFE-GUARD AGAINST DISEASE

Pure, rich blood and a free circulation is the surest protection against the diseases and disorders which are constantly attacking our physical systems. The healthy circulation of the blood prevents the entrance of disease germs, and filters out of the system everything that is not necessary or beneficial to the growth and development of the body; all life's forces are kept up by it, and every organ, nerve, tissue and bone is dependent on the blood for its nourishment and strength.

Healthy blood is filled with millions of little red corpuscles. These minute particles furnish its rich, red color, and are the carriers of nutriment and health to the different parts of the body; in other words the very life and vitalizing essence of the circulation. The destruction of these corpuscles by disease germs weakens and pollutes the blood, and anaemia, with its attendant evils of pale, chalky complexions, weak, run-down systems and malarial conditions, or perhaps some more definitely marked disorder, is the result.

Frequently the blood becomes infected with acid, fiery humors, and Eczema, Acne, Tetter, or some other skin disease or affection makes its appearance, and is kept up with its itching and disfiguring symptoms. An excess of uric acid in the circulation causes a fermentation of the blood, and Rheumatism, with its pains and aches, is established in the system, there to remain, unless the poison is driven from the blood. Old Sores and Ulcers are likewise dependent on bad blood. These places are kept open and in a state of irritation by the drainage of pollution which the blood is continually discharging into them. In fact there are few ailments which cannot be traced to impure or diseased blood, and our only safeguard is to keep the circulation in strong, healthy condition.

In all blood troubles S. S. S. has proven itself a perfect remedy, and is universally recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes down into the circulation, and removes all poisons, humors and taints, and makes this life-stream pure and health-sustaining. It purifies and strengthens weak, deteriorated blood, supplies it with the healthful properties it needs, and establishes the foundation for good health. As a tonic S. S. S. has no equal, and will be found especially adapted to weak, run-down systems.

One of the greatest points in favor of S. S. S., is that it does not contain a particle of mineral, but is made entirely of the extracts and juices of harmless, healing, cleansing roots and herbs. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles, are permanently cured by S. S. S., and so thorough is its work that no trace of the disease is left for future outbreaks. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores. Look on the blood and any medical advice desired will be sent, free to all who write.

MANY INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE ADOPT NEW THEORY

Statements from Followers of Cooper Obtained Recently in Various Cities.

A number of statements from prominent people located in various cities where the widespread discussion over L. T. Cooper's new theory regarding the human stomach has recently waged, give an idea of the intense interest the young man has aroused during the past year. The statements are as follows:

Mr. C. D. Mitchell, of 2412 Avenue C, Birmingham, Ala., has this to say with regard to his belief in Cooper's medicine: "I have been troubled with indigestion and stomach trouble for the past year. I had heartburn, bloating after eating, gas on stomach and bowels, palpitation of the heart, pain in the lower part of my back, and various other symptoms, and was a victim of much distress. I tried many remedies, but received little or no benefit from them. I was advised to try the Cooper preparations, and did so. In one week's time I was improved wonderfully—the first relief I had been able to obtain. Mr. Cooper's medicine does all he claims for it."

Mr. J. C. Stradling, of 705 South Teton Street, Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "I was troubled with indigestion for two years. It caused me a great deal of suffering and misery. I did not dare to eat meat at all, and everything I did eat soured on my stomach. I tried various remedies, but found no relief. Three months ago I started taking Cooper's New Discovery, and after using the contents of three bottles I was entirely cured. I can now eat and relish anything that my appetite craves. The New Discovery is truly a great stomach medicine."

Mr. Wm. Coder, of 403 Graven Street, Syracuse, N. Y., is very strong in his expression of belief in the new medicine, and has the following to say on the subject: "I have suffered from catarrh of the nose and throat for four years. It must have been communicated to my stomach, for all this time my stomach has given me a great deal of trouble, and caused me much pain and suffering. My stomach was often sour, and my food did not digest. I was bothered by a continual desire to spit, and there was a constant dropping of mucus into the throat."

"The first relief I have been able to obtain is from Cooper's New Discovery, which I have been taking for about a week. My catarrhal condition has been greatly improved and my stomach is almost well. Mr. Cooper's medicine has benefited me more than anything I have ever used."

These statements are from reliable citizens in various communities who have tried these celebrated medicines. We sell them and will gladly explain their nature to any one interested.

We Make Beautiful New Fluff Rugs from Worn Out Carpets...

At a Saving of 25 Per Cent

Fluff rugs are heavy, thick rugs, soft in texture, ideal for the dining room or bed room. They are made by cutting the old carpet in strips and unraveling it on both edges and then rolled in spiral form, which causes the strips to be woven on edge, bringing all the wear on parts not worn before. The cost is 25% less than store rugs and they will outwear two of the ordinary kind.

In weaving, the corners are made so they will lay flat to the floor.

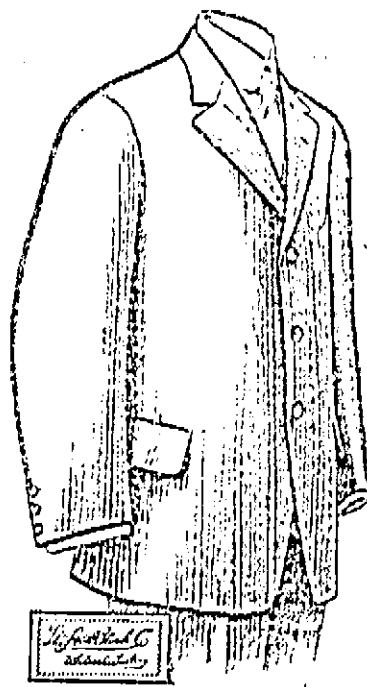

We have many pretty samples made up in our office which are for sale if they meet your desires. Call and see them the next time you are down town, or phone and let our representative call.

Apples in United States.

Two thousand varieties of apples are raised in the United States.

THIS appears to be as fitting time as any to speak of "ideas in business," with special reference to the general conduct of the clothing business and the lines on which this store is run.

THERE is so much said these days about "QUALITY" and "VALUE" that one forgets or perhaps grows dull to the full meaning of the terms in connection especially with clothing.

OUR business is conducted along one set line of straightforward procedure—the welfare of our customers is the first consideration; and to that end we make no statement publicly or privately which cannot be borne out by actual fact. There has been no time in our career when we have been unable to substantiate every claim we have made, and the result has been the building of a business foundation as strong as Gibraltar. We wish to bring out the point that this policy of ours pays everybody with whom it comes in touch, our customers as well as ourselves.

THE creation of confidence is the main-spring of anything good in this life. We have confidence in our customers and they in turn in us. If we are to keep your best interests before us it involves the best buying skill and judgment we have; the "qualities" and "values" you secure in clothes depends on our ability to select, and the price you pay depends on the price we buy.

THE years of experience we have had gives us distinct advantage in both selecting and buying. There is nothing new or startling about what we have said—the new thing is the actual living up to these standards and doing business on them.

WE sell Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes and other selected makes because they reach up to our standard; the same with John B. Stetson Hats, Guyer Hats, Dunlap Hats, Wilson Shirts, and every other line sold from this store. Our aim is to see that your clothing wants are supplied just as they ought to be with profit to us both.

INCIDENTALLY we are offering some good snaps in this 50 per cent reduction sale of clothing carried over from last season. Overcoats, Suits, Men's, Boys' and Children's Coats, Vests, etc.
